PANDA BALL ~ OVERVIEW

Panda Ball is Canada's premier celebration of the environmental leadership, vision and passion that is supporting a future in which nature and people thrive. Each year, our gala brings together more than 300 of Canada's corporate and philanthropic leaders with a deep commitment to conservation. Since our first Panda Ball in 2010, we have raised more than $1.2-million in net funds to support critical conservation work that matters to all Canadians. WWF is driving towards a strong, thriving Arctic, safe and abundant water for people and for nature, three healthy, resilient oceans and a renewable-energy future in which Canada is a lead global supplier of sustainable power, technology and expertise.

Each year, we honour an individual or corporate leader whose transformative investment of talent, wisdom and effort is conserving our natural world. Our event also features an exciting live auction with prizes that spotlight Canada's most extraordinary wild species and places, such as viewing polar bears on the shores of icy Hudson Bay, or spotting the rare, elusive Spirit Bear in northern British Columbia's Great Bear Rainforest.

Special guests have included Commander Chris Hadfield, the first Canadian to be appointed Commander of the International Space Station; the Right Honourable Adrienne Clarkson, Canada's former Governor-General; esteemed Canadian authors John Ralston Saul and Joseph Boyden; political leaders Dalton McGuinty and Olivia Chow; as well as musicians Feist, Steven Page, John Legend and the Canadian Tenors.

An underwater photograph of a vibrant coral reef. The water is a deep, clear blue. In the foreground, there are various types of coral, including a large, white, branching coral structure. Numerous small, colorful fish, including orange and purple ones, are swimming around the reef. The background shows more coral and fish, with sunlight filtering down from the surface, creating a shimmering effect on the water.
